

YORK UNIVERSITY

PROGRAMME IN CLASSICAL STUDIES

EPIGRAPHY AND HISTORY IN ITALY AND THE WESTERN PROVINCES: TEXTS AND METHODS

Friday 23 November 2018

2183 Vari Hall (History Dept. Common Room)

Session 1

11.00 Welcome

11.15 to 12.00 “Editing inscriptions from Augusta Emerita: new texts, new techniques”

Jonathan Edmondson (Dept. of History, York University)

12.00 to 12.45 “The Roman voting tribe Quirina in the epigraphy of Hispania Citerior”

Marta Fernández Corral (postdoctoral fellow, Dept. of History, York University / Dept. of Classical Studies, University of the Basque Country)

12.45 to 2.00 Lunch

Session 2

2.00 to 2.45 “Roman public buildings and Latin epigraphy: costs and archaeological analysis”

Santiago Sánchez de la Parra Pérez (doctoral candidate, Universidad de Salamanca; visiting doctoral student, Dept. of History, York University)

2.45 to 3.30 “populus de suo posuit: The people’s response to remittances at Gigthis (Africa Proconsularis)”

Christopher Dawson (Ph.D., York University; independent scholar)

3.30 to 4.00 Break

Session 3

4.00 to 4.45 “The status of municipal freedmen in Roman towns: a case-study of the *Augustales”

Jeff Easton (doctoral candidate, Dept. of Classics, University of Toronto)

4.45 to 5.30 “Rural sanctuaries in Central and Northern Italy: some thoughts concerning their devotees”

Riccardo Bertolazzi (postdoctoral fellow, Dept. of Classics, University of Toronto)

5.30 to 6.00 General discussion

Please, register (no fee) by emailing mfercor@yorku.ca
before Wednesday 21 November, 1 p.m.